"Obedience by faith is righteousness by faith. . . When we bring our lives to complete obedience to the law of God, regarding God as our supreme Guide, and clinging to Christ as our hope of righteousness, God will work in our behalf. This is righteousness of faith, a righteousness hidden in a mystery of which the worldly person knows nothing and which he cannot understand. Sophistry and strife follow in the train of the serpent; but the commandments of God diligently studied and practiced open to us communication with heaven, and distinguish for us the true from the false. This obedience works out for us the divine will, bringing into our lives the righteousness and perfection that was seen in the life of Christ." Manuscript 43, 1907.
