Discussion at the Door

Many years ago I was sitting down watching television when I heard a knock on the door. I opened the door and there were two Jehovah's Witness men there holding some religious magazines. We started having a discussion about heaven and the New Jerusalem. They were very adamant that only a literal 144,000 ( $1.44 \times 10^5$ ) people would go to heaven. They are composed entirely of New Testament saints. They live in Paradise A, while the great multitude live in the new earth, Paradise B. The great multitude are made up of all the Old Testament saints and the vast majority of New Testament saints. Nobody in the Old Testament goes to heaven. Many of the New Testament saints (Peter, James, John etc.) are in supposed to be in the 144,000.

The 144,000

Needless to say, the Witness's view is riddled with holes. When discussing the 144,000 with Witnesses, make them realize that they are being inconsistent in how they interpret the texts where the 144,000 are mentioned. They insist that there are exactly 144,000 of these people, no more and no less, making it a literal number, but they interpret every other detail about this group in a symbolic manner.

If they were consistent, they would have to conclude that the 144,000 are Jews, drawn equally from the twelve tribes of Israel (most of which are now unrecognizably lost), that they are all male virgins who do not lie and who have two names literally written on their foreheads. The problem is that almost none of the 9,000 Witnesses supposed to be members of this group fit this description. Many of them are married Gentile women with children, and they presumably have bent the truth more than a few times in their lives.

The only detail from the text that the Witnesses take literally is the number. Every other detail of the text is taken non-literally. They should either take all of the details literally or see the 144,000 as a symbol of the Church as a whole (as does virtually everyone else).

ROMAN CATHOLIC

No saints or people went to heaven before Jesus' death.

<http://www.catholic.org/saints/faq.php>

By the year 100 A.D., Christians were honoring other Christians who had died, and asking for their intercession. Many people think that honoring saints was something the Church set up later, but it was part of Christianity from the very beginning. As a matter of fact, this practice came from a long-standing tradition in the Jewish faith of honoring prophets and holy people with shrines. The first saints were martyrs, people who had given up their lives for the Faith in the persecution of Christians.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESS

No saints or people went to heaven before Jesus' death.

"The 144,000 are faithful Christians whom God has chosen "to rule as kings over the earth" with Jesus. When they die, they are resurrected to life in heaven. (Revelation 5:10) Since the time of the apostles, Jehovah has been choosing faithful Christians to be part of that group of 144,000 kings."

<https://wol.jw.org/en/wol/d/r1/lp-e/1102015148>

The Bible indicates that 144,000 people will be resurrected to heavenly life. (Revelation 7:4) In the vision recorded at Revelation 14:1-3, the apostle John saw "the Lamb standing on Mount Zion, and with him 144,000." In this vision, "the Lamb" represents the resurrected Jesus. (John 1:29; 1 Peter 1:19) "Mount Zion" represents the exalted position of Jesus and the 144,000 who rule with him in the heavens.—Psalm 2:6; Hebrews 12:22.

The sum of the evidence, therefore, points to the "great crowd" as representing all those persons who are not of the heavenly "bride" class, or 144,000 sealed ones, but who stand approved at the time of the "great tribulation" and are preserved alive on earth.—See CONGREGATION (The Christian Congregation of God); EARTH (Purpose); HEAVEN.

The New Jerusalem

JEHOVAH'S WITNESS

“New Jerusalem,” an expression that appears twice in the Bible, is a symbolic city that represents the group of Jesus’ followers who go to heaven to rule with him in God’s Kingdom. (Revelation 3:12; 21:2) The Bible shows that this group can also be called the bride of Christ.

<https://www.jw.org/en/bible-teachings/questions/new-jerusalem/>

The New Jerusalem, together with Christ on his throne in this symbolic city, constitutes the “new heavens” that rule over the “new earth,” which is human society on earth.

ROMAN CATHOLIC

It is the new Jerusalem, still imperfect because it is yet a pilgrim in history, but able to anticipate in some way the heavenly Jerusalem. Lastly, we can here refer to the Responsorial Psalm 121, belonging to the so-called "Song of Ascents". It is a hymn of the pilgrims' joy who, going up toward the holy city and having reached its doors, address the peace-greeting to them: shalom! According to popular etymology Jerusalem is interpreted as a "city of peace", whose peace the Messiah, Son of David, would have established in the fullness of time. We recognize in Jerusalem the figure of the Church, sacrament of Christ and of his Kingdom.

The Catholic Church places the New Jerusalem in the eschatological role found in Revelation. Catholicism also holds that the New Jerusalem already exists as a spiritual community in Heaven, the Church triumphant, with an outpost on earth, the Church militant. Together, the Church triumphant, Church militant, and Church suffering form the Church universal. Augustine of Hippo, a Doctor of the Church and Church Father, draws inspiration from John's account of the New Jerusalem to outline this view in his monumental work The City of God.

The Catholic Encyclopedia article on "Heaven" states that Catholic theologians deem more appropriate that there should be a special and glorious abode, in which the blessed have their peculiar home and where they usually abide, even though they be free to go about in this world. For the surroundings in the midst of which the blessed have their dwelling must be in accordance with their happy state; and the internal union of charity which joins them in affection must find its outward expression in community of habitation. At the end of the world, the earth together with the celestial bodies will be gloriously transformed into a part of the dwelling-place of the blessed (Revelation 21). Hence there seems to be no sufficient reason for attributing a metaphorical sense to those numerous utterances of the Bible which suggest a definite dwelling-place of the blessed. Theologians, therefore, generally hold that the heaven of the blessed is a special place with definite limits. Naturally, this place is held to exist, not within the earth, but, in accordance with the expressions of Scripture, without and beyond its limits. All further details regarding its locality are quite uncertain. The Church has decided nothing on this subject.

The Bride of Christ

According to JW doctrine, the bride is the heavenly 144,000 only. The great multitude are saved but are not the bride. No bride in the Old Testament. According to the Bible all the redeemed [Old Testament/New Testament] are the bride.

The sum of the evidence, therefore, points to the “great crowd” as representing all those persons who are not of the heavenly “bride” class, or 144,000 sealed ones, but who stand approved at the time of the “great tribulation” and are preserved alive on earth.—See CONGREGATION (The Christian Congregation of God); EARTH (Purpose); HEAVEN.

New Jerusalem is made up of a group of Jesus’ followers, the bride of Christ. New Jerusalem is called “the bride, the Lamb’s wife.” (Revelation 21:9, 10) In this symbolic description, the Lamb refers to Jesus Christ. (John 1:29; Revelation 5:12) “The Lamb’s wife,” Christ’s bride, represents Christians who will be united with Jesus in heaven. The Bible likens the relationship between Jesus and these Christians to that of a husband and wife. (2 Corinthians 11:2; Ephesians 5:23-25) In addition, the foundation stones of New Jerusalem are inscribed with “the 12 names of the 12 apostles of the Lamb.” (Revelation 21:14) This detail helps to confirm the identity of New Jerusalem, since Christians who are called to life in heaven are “built up on the foundation of the apostles and prophets.”—Ephesians 2:20.

Do Living People Outnumber the Dead?

According to Scientific American magazine [By Ciara Curtin on September 1, 2007], 100 billion people have lived on Earth since 1 AD. If only a literal 144,000 go to heaven it would mean that only one in every 700,000 will be there. That is only one person every 5 days over the last 2,000 years. <https://www.scientificamerican.com/article/do-living-people-outnumber-the-dead/>

Abraham

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 8:11

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: 10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. 11 Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised. 12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable. 13 These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. 14 For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country. 15 And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned. 16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. Hebrews 11:8-16

Isaac

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 8:11

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. 17 By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son. 18 Of whom it was said, That in Isaac shall thy seed be called: 19 Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure. 20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come. Hebrews 11:16-20

Jacob

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 8:11

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. 20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come. 21 By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. Matthew 17:1-4

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. 23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment. 24 By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; Hebrews 11:16, 23, 24

Fitting everybody in one building.

If each level or story in the New Jerusalem was one kilometer high the city would have 216 million square kilometers of floor space. That is seven times the surface area of Africa. How much room would the angels take up? According to the Bible there are at least 100 million: "Then I looked and heard the voice of many angels, numbering thousands upon thousands, and ten thousand times ten thousand." Revelation 5:11. One level of the New Jerusalem would have a surface area of 360 thousand square kilometers. If each angel had one hectare of floor space, you could fit 36 million on one level. If we allocate one entire level for worship how many people could you seat? If each person were allocated 100 square meters (10 meters x 10 meters) you could easily fit 3.6 billion people in a worship service. If only 144,000 people were in the New Jerusalem each person would have 1500 square kilometers of floor space. That is the equivalent of a square 39 kilometers wide or a circle 43 kilometers wide. Such figures seem unreasonable.

One Heaven, One Paradise

There are several verses [9] in the Bible indicating that there is one hope and one heaven, not two. The 144,000 are made up of those who are alive at the battle of Armageddon [10]. The great multitude [11] will join in with the 144,000 in heaven at the wedding supper of the lamb.

The weight of the New Jerusalem

The two men were quite sure that the New Jerusalem could not land on the Earth because it would be too heavy! Such a heavy object would affect the Earth's rotation on its axis. The Bible says [1] that the city is a cube 600 kilometers on each side. A cube that size would have a volume of 216 million cubic kilometers. Since the building is like a house it is mostly empty space. If we melted, it down it would probably be only 600 x 600 x 10 kilometers in size. That is 3.6 million cubic kilometers. Gold has a weight of 19.32 tons per cubic meter [2]. If we compare the volume of the Earth [3] with the volume of the material in the New Jerusalem, we see that the Earth's volume is 302,000 times larger. The Earth's mass is 85,864 times heavier. The day length of Earth is 86,400 seconds. Placing such a large object on the surface of the Earth might vary the day length by one second at the most.

To accommodate the redeemed from all ages, the New Earth might be much larger than the Earth is today. The Earth's current surface area is 510 million square kilometers. If it were the size of Jupiter, it would have 120 times as much surface area and could easily hold 60 billion people. If it were the same density as the Earth [3] is now it would weigh over 5,000 times as much as the Earth's current mass. Such an object like the New Jerusalem would be like an ant landing on the back of an adult elephant.

Planetary Radius and Surface Areas

Planet	Radius	Surface Area	Mass
Earth	6,378	510	1
Jupiter	69,911	61,276	5,466
Saturn	58,232	42,513	6,001
Uranus	25,362	8,064	266
Neptune	24,622	7,601	180

(Radius = kilometers, Area = million square kilometers)

If we look at the average elevation, surface area and density [3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8] of major landforms on the Earth's surface we can see that they are no heavier than the Holy City. Whether it be pure gold or gold tinted glass or whatever mixture, our planet with its current size has no problem with such an object.
